listing Description

Upper provides custom embroidered clothing that feels polished without being overdone. We work with businesses, clubs, and individuals looking to add sharp, long-lasting branding to uniforms, caps, jackets—you name it. Our machines handle detail well, and we don't rush things. Every logo gets tested before it hits the fabric, so it shows up clean and stays in shape over time. Bring us your own items or choose from our stock. Either way, we'll guide you through sizes, placements, and thread options without talking in circles. Whether it's ten units or a few hundred, we take it seriously and keep the process clear. It's solid embroidery, done properly, without the usual headaches or surprises.
